(c) The sale or offer for sale of any previously owned product containing a chemical restricted under this section is exempt from the provisions of this section.

Subd. 3. Flame-retardant chemicals; replacement chemicals. A manufacturer shall not replace a chemical whose use is prohibited under this section with a chemical identified on the basis of credible scientific evidence by a state, federal, or international agency as being known or suspected with a high degree of probability to:

- (1) harm the normal development of a fetus or child or cause other developmental toxicity;
- (2) cause cancer, genetic damage, or reproductive harm;
- (3) disrupt the endocrine or hormone system; or
- (4) damage the nervous system, immune system, or organs, or cause other systemic toxicity.

Sec. 2. FLAME RETARDANT REPORTS.

By January 15, 2016, the commissioner of health, in consultation with the state fire marshal, shall report to the chairs and ranking minority members of the senate and house of representatives committees with primary jurisdiction over environment and natural resources policy, commerce, health, and public safety regarding:

(1) the status of federal, international, and other states' laws and regulations in identifying, prioritizing, evaluating, and regulating the use of flame retardants in upholstered furniture, mattresses, and carpet pads;

(2) the status of relevant fire safety standards and practices for residential settings for products including mattresses, upholstered furniture, and carpet pads;

(3) the status of and any authoritative findings from studies and reports on a direct link to meaningful negative health and safety effects and impacts on firefighters of flame retardants covered by this section, particularly as it relates to the combustion of flame retardants in articles in actual firefighting settings relative to overall smoke hazards and combustion byproducts;

(4) in developing the report, the agency may consult with stakeholders, including representatives of state agencies, product manufacturers, chemical manufacturers, firefighters, public health experts, and independent scientists. The report must include information on any stakeholder process consulted with or used in developing the report."

Amend the title as follows:

Page 1, line 3, after the semicolon, insert "requiring a report;"

With the recommendation that when so amended the bill be re-referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Administration.

The report was adopted.
