(9) "psychologist" means a psychologist licensed by the Board of Psychology under sections 148.88 to 148.98.

Subd. 2. Application. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the procedure in this section applies to any application for a duty disability based on a psychological condition for an employee.

Subd. 3. Initial approval. (a) An employee who applies for duty disability as provided under sections 352B.10 and 352B.101 based on a psychological condition must first receive initial approval as provided under this subdivision.

(b) To apply for initial approval, the employee shall submit the following documentation in the form and manner prescribed by the executive director:

(1) a report by a licensed psychologist or psychiatrist finding that the employee is diagnosed with a mental illness and is currently unable to perform the duties of the position held by the employee on the date of the injury or the onset of the mental illness;

(2) documentation from the employer certifying the dates the employee was on active duty in a position with inherently dangerous duties specific to the position covered under the State Patrol retirement plan; and

If the employee was diagnosed with a mental illness prior to active duty, the employee may also submit medical and health care evidence that the mental illness worsened as a result of active duty to meet this requirement.

(c) The executive director has the right, as deemed reasonable, to request additional medical and health care evidence, including all medical records and relevant information from any source, as well as additional employment records or certifications from the employer, to establish adequate proof that an employee meets the requirements for initial approval.

The employer shall pay for the treatment costs and may seek reimbursement as provided under paragraph (e).

(b) The employee's mental health care provider must assess the employee's progress in treatment monthly and at the end of the 32 weeks, including any change to the employee's ability to return to the position held by the employee on the date of injury or at the onset of the mental illness, or to another position with the employer which produces an economic status as close as possible to, or better than, the economic status the employee would have enjoyed before the date of injury or onset of mental illness. A final determination under subdivision 6 must be supported by a report from the employee's mental health care provider containing an opinion about the employee's prognosis, the duration of the disability, and the expectations for improvement following the treatment. A report that does not contain and support a finding that the employee's disability as a result of a psychological condition will last for at least 12 months must not be relied upon to support final approval of duty disability benefits.

(d) The employee may return to light duty assignments prior to the completion of the 32 weeks of treatment if deemed medically appropriate by the employee's mental health care provider and with the employer's approval.

An employer must apply for this reimbursement in the form and manner specified by the commissioner of public safety.

(3) to provide any other employment benefits provided to the employee under the employee's currently applicable collective bargaining agreement.

(b) Nothing in paragraph (a): (1) prevents an employer from providing benefits in addition to those required by this section; or (2) otherwise affects an employee's rights with respect to any other employment benefit.

(c) An employer subject to this subdivision may annually apply by August 1 for the preceding fiscal year to the commissioner of public safety for reimbursement of:

(1) the costs incurred to continue wages and benefits as required under this subdivision; and

Final approval, denial, or continuation of treatment. (a) Following completion of treatment under subdivision 4, the Minnesota State Retirement System shall review an employee's application for duty disability as provided under sections 352B.10 and 352B.101, confirm the treatment requirements are satisfied, and make one of the following determinations:

(1) continue the initial approval for an additional eight weeks for the employee to complete additional treatment, as provided under subdivision 7;

(2) deny the employee's application for duty disability because the employee is able to return to employment in the position held by the employee on the date of injury or at the onset of the mental illness, or to another position with the employer which produces an economic status as close as possible to, or better than, the economic status the employee would have enjoyed before the date of injury or onset of the mental illness, or because the employee is otherwise determined to be ineligible under sections 352B.10 and 352B.101; or

(3) determine the employee is eligible under sections 352B.10 and 352B.101 and approve the employee's application for duty disability, at which time the employee may start to receive duty disability benefits as provided under this chapter and any related benefits stemming from a determination of duty disability.

(b) Following completion of the additional treatment under subdivision 7, if applicable, the Minnesota State Retirement System shall confirm the treatment requirements are satisfied, review any updates to the employee's application for duty disability, and issue a final approval or denial, as provided under paragraph (a), clauses (2) and (3).

(c) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, an employee determined to be able to return to employment as provided under paragraph (a), clause (2), is presumed to be fit for duty. An employer must not request a fitness for duty exam or deny the employee's return to work except upon a showing of substantial factors to rebut the presumption.

Subd. 7. Additional treatment. (a) If, after completing the treatment required under subdivision 4, the mental health care provider's report determines that the employee is making progress in treatment, and the employee's prognosis is expected to further improve with additional treatment, the Minnesota State Retirement System shall continue the employee's initial approval under subdivision 6, clause (1), and the employee shall complete up to an additional eight weeks of treatment as provided under this subdivision.

(b) Treatment shall be at the direction of a licensed psychologist or psychiatrist using treatment modalities indicated for the treatment of the employee's diagnosed mental illness. The employer shall pay for the treatment costs and may seek reimbursement as provided under subdivision 4, paragraph (e).

(c) The employee's mental health care provider must assess the employee's progress in treatment at the end of eight weeks, including any change to the employee's ability to return to the position held by the employee on the date of injury or at the onset of the mental illness, or to another position with the employer which produces an economic status as close as possible to, or better than, the economic status the employee would have enjoyed before the date of injury or onset of mental illness. A final determination under subdivision 6 must be supported by an updated report from the employee's mental health provider containing an opinion about the employee's prognosis, the duration of the disability, and the expectations for improvement following the additional treatment. An updated report that does not contain and support a finding that the employee's disability as a result of a psychological condition will last for at least 12 months may not be relied upon to support final approval of duty disability benefits.

(d) The employee may return to work prior to the completion of the eight weeks of treatment, if the employee's mental health care provider determines that the employee is medically able to do so.

(e) The employee may return to light duty assignments prior to the completion of the eight weeks of treatment, if deemed medically appropriate by the employee's mental health care provider and with the employer's approval.

(f) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, an employee who is cleared to return to work or light duties under paragraph (d) or (e) is presumed to be fit for duty. An employer must not request a fitness for duty exam or deny the employee's return to work or light duties except upon a showing of substantial factors to rebut the presumption.
