Bill Description

This bill would expand MHRA to include protections from discrimination in the areas of employment, housing, public accommodation, public services, and education based on veteran and military status.

Assumptions

- If signed into law this change would increase the number of charges filed with the Department in a given year.
- While MDHR cannot definitively project how many veterans or military servicemembers will file complaints of discrimination with the Department, even a marginal increase in the number of complaints would require additional capacity.
- According to US Census data from 2020, there are approximately 300,000 veterans living in the state of Minnesota.
- According to the MN National Guards 2024 Annual Report, there are “nearly 13,000 citizen-soldiers and airmen” living in Minnesota.
- The Minnesota Human Rights Act recognizes that discrimination can occur on the basis of multiple characteristics within a single instance of discrimination. When reaching out to the Department, charging parties will often assert that they’ve been discriminated against based on multiple protected characteristics.

- For example, charging parties may allege they’ve been subject to workplace discrimination based on their sex and age, or education discrimination based on their race and disability.

As there is little data on the prevalence of military or veteran status discrimination, MDHR has to make projections based on the number and type of complaints the Department receives in a given year. Disability is consistently the most common basis of discrimination reported to MDHR. Statistically speaking, most people will experience a disability during their lifetime.

In calendar year 2025, MDHR received 907 complaints of discrimination on the basis of disability. Census data suggests that between 5-7% of Minnesotans are military veterans.

For the purposes of estimation, if we assume that veterans are at least as likely as anybody else to be living with a disability, and we assume that the 907 disability complaints filed with the Department in 2025 are representative of the broader population, it would be reasonable to conclude that 5%-7% of complaints (45-63) bringing a disability charge may also be veterans.

While it is presently impossible to say how many of 907 complainants with disabilities may have also been subject to discrimination on account of their veteran or military status, or how many of the folks who brought the 140 age discrimination complaints we received in 2025 may have also been discriminated against on account of their veteran or active military status, we can reasonably expect that the department will receive at least an additional 50 charges filed annually.

- As of December of 2025, MDHR had a investigations case inventory of 1232 cases; the department has 31 full-time employees who work on further department investigations, which comes out to an average caseload of 40 cases.
 - o Employees who work on case inventory include intake staff who assist Minnesotans with filing the charge of discrimination, investigators, case support staff who help move cases forward efficiently and effectively, and the legal team.

Expenditure and/or Revenue Formula

Staffing:

- The Department would hire 1 FTE investigator (~$75,000 annual salary) for the increased workload resulting from the new area of protection. This investigator would specialize in this new area of the law. Furthermore, they would carry the caseload associated with the anticipated influx of charges filed after the effective date of this new law.
- The Department would also hire a 0.5 FTE Associate General Counsel ($94,000 annual salary) to deal with the novel legal issues involved with these expanded MHRA protections veterans and military servicemembers. This provision would provide technical assistance internally and externally, as well as provide internal and external training. As with all determinations issued by MDHR, this position will provide final legal review of all investigations associated with enforcing this new law before the determination is finalized. Additionally, this position will help train MDHR staff and help with external education by drafting educational materials to bolster public awareness around the new requirements associated with this change.

Revenue:

- It is highly unlikely that this change would precipitate any meaningful revenue for either the state general fund or the department directly.

FY	2026	2027	2028	2029
Staff Salary Costs:		$122,000	$122,000	$122,000
-1 Investigators
-0.5 Assistant General Counsel
Fringe Costs:		$76,804	$84,832	$91,683
FICA, Retirement, Insurance, Medicare
Staff Costs (Non-Salary):		$28,747	$13,347	$13,347
Rent, IT support, softphone services, as well as one-time purchases equipment, office furniture, and assorted supplies.
Total:		$227,551	$220,179	$227,030

The non-salary/fringe “staff costs” shown in the table represent includes the recurring cost of rent for office space, IT support, softphone services, as well as one-time purchases in FY27 for equipment, office furniture, and assorted supplies.

The increase year-to-year in the Fringe Costs represents the anticipated increase in the cost of insurance per position:

- FY27: $33,669
- FY28 & FY29 - $37,094

Long-Term Fiscal Considerations

It is very possible that the total number of charges filed with MDHR relating to this specific area of the law will decrease as precedent is established and the public becomes more aware of these new requirements under the law.
