

I am an advocate of full legalization of cannabis, in spite of currently holding a class A CDL and not being able to indulge in cannabis use on a regular basis. That being said, I'm a Mn medical cannabis patient, though of course I can't use this effectively while I still drive professionally, in my seasonal layoff period I have tried the Mn medical cannabis products and found them greatly reduced in efficacy compared to whole flower products that I sampled while living in Washington state in the recent past. As a note the medical cannabis products here in Mn are made with whole PLANT, not from the whole flower and so is a much inferior medicine, as it is being over processed in addition to being a diluted product. Medical need patients could have access to a better grade of medicine with a competitive cannabis market, please consider full cannabis legalization in Mn soon. Thank you!
