Learn More About MICH

The Minnesota Interagency Council on Homelessness (MICH) is a cabinet-level body led by Lt. Governor Flanagan and is comprised of the commissioners of 13 state agencies and the chair of the Metropolitan Council. It is accountable for leading the state's efforts to move towards housing, health, and racial justice for people experiencing homelessness. The Council is co-chaired by Commissioners Harpstead (Department of Human Services) and Ho (Minnesota Housing).

MICH

Get Involved in the Justice Planning Process

MICH is in the beginning phase of developing a statewide strategic plan focused on achieving housing, racial, and health justice for people experiencing homelessness. You may be asking yourself, what do we mean when we say justice? We are in the first phase of our planning process that is focused on developing in partnership with the community and stakeholders an actionable definition of housing, racial, and health justice. MICH has contracted with Rainbow Research to lead this first phase of work.
