their own stories.

Our Story

Hmong Museum is dedicated to the preservation and education of Hmong culture, history, stories, and arts. We do this through the creation and collaboration of programs that:

- Document Hmong history & knowledge
- Exhibit Hmong culture & art
- Share Hmong experiences & stories

We design our programs to be engaging and accessible, with hands-on experiences, community participation and memorable storytelling.

Programs

Project Paj Ntaub

A free traditional Hmong textile workshop taught by a Hmong elder, Suzanne Thao.

Traveling Exhibit

Hmong Museum is developing a traveling exhibit that shares Hmong history and experiences through technology over time = such as cassette tape letters between families in Minnesota and their relatives in Laos.

Documentation

With every program we actively document because there are so few primary resources available. We video record, conduct oral history, and collect objects.
