JOB CREATION

So what does Powerball fever mean for MN?

"For every $2 Powerball ticket that is purchased, 46 cents of tickets goes to fund the general fund which is all state projects in Minnesota that receive funding like roads, bridges, education, and then another 38 cents goes to help Minnesota environment," said Hoffman.

Take, for example, the Minnesota Zoo. They receive $160,000 every year to help with operating costs that help keep this place, their Tropic Trail, a nice and balmy 74-degrees all year round.

"I think folks are always looking for a reason to rationalize lottery ticket purchased so if this $1.4 billion is getting tempting, you can know that you are buying a ticket that is going to help the zoo," said Beth Burns, Minnesota Zoo VP of External Relations.

Prize expense, general fund, and environment and natural resources trust fund get the majority of your money. The rest goes to lotto game vendor expense, retailer commissions, game and fish fund and natural resources fund.

Solution 2011 Changes proposed Legislation for Pro Rata Distribution of MN Lottery Losses (Revenue)

What in essence the proposed legislation would do does is take the proceeds from losing lottery sales to be redistributed in a more pro rata basis of where generated.

The premise of the bill is that the areas of distribution in the current legislation given the areas allowed by the existing legislation favors areas more heavily than the metro. The job creation from the pro rata sharing can be redirected to favor the areas of which losses are in essence a regressive tax.

This is but one of the many areas where redistribution of funds would substantially change the metro disparity.

Nickname: "Robbin Hood Legislation Changes". Submitted; never got farther than this first step

A bill for an act
relating to natural resources; modifying environment and natural resources trust fund provisions; amending Minnesota Statutes 2010, sections 116P.03; 116P.05, subdivision 1; 116P.08, subdivisions 1, 2, by adding subdivisions.

4.19 Sec. 5. Minnesota Statutes 2010, section 116P.08, is amended by adding a subdivision
4.20to read:

4.21 Subd. 2a. Geographical distribution. The geographical distribution of 4.22expenditures made under subdivision 1 must, as nearly as possible, proportionally match
4.23the geographical distribution of revenue to the trust fund from the state-operated lottery.

Commissioner Massman/Alice/Betsy/Samantha

As follow up to Alice's braggadocios reply to Root Goods inquiry in the MinnCor Industries contracts, I reviewed the additional MN Adm contracts for Cleaning Supplies and Floor Care Products. I attached the PDF's of those Mn Adm contracts. Surprisingly each contains restrictive language to thwart Minnesota's small business opportunities. I have included both an inline and pdf of the restrictive language.

I would like to inquire when specific exception to c-935 allows CPV participants procurement outside AMS (see below)? In addition, this language is omitted from the current C-252 and C806 (see below). If such have been given, what has been the process used for submission by the CPV member.

Furthermore, the restrictive purchasing language was omitted in C-252 in 2004 for purchases with discretion given to the purchasing authority to procure similar products and services from vendors (see below).

Additionally, Alice stated glowingly that Contract Release C-252(2) offers five additional vendors, including at least one TG/ED/VO supplier. This contract will be reviewed in August 2016. Given that the contract was created prior to July 2015, not sure how such credited is taken by the new Office of Equity in Procurement.

Commissioner Massman, what is the make ready contract spirit that the new Office of Equity Procurement staff are given? Maybe I have been misled in thinking the new initiative Governor Dayton is seeking to change the wealth of Black Minnesotans.

In closing, Mn Adm staff Alice Roberts-Davis direction that Root Goods apply in Aug 2016 clearly is an attempt to say "right now" there exist no contract opportunities. Maybe the new position should be eliminated as I thought the goal was right now solutions. Again, I refer back to the CPV allowable exception by Adm Staff which might offer some "right now" contract opportunities, correct?

I await your reply to my inquiries.

Who is eligible?

There are six categories of eligibility.

1. "Governmental unit," defined as any political subdivision, licensed nonprofit hospital in Minnesota, or any agency of the State of Minnesota, another state or the United States government (MS § 471.59, subd. 1).
2. Entities eligible to receive surplus federal property through Minnesota's surplus property program (MS § 16C.23).
3. Registered Combined Charities organizations (MS § 43A.50).
4. Charitable organizations in Minnesota that are a recipient of a state grant or contract (MS § 309.50).
5. Community health clinics in Minnesota (MS § 145.9268).
6. Entities in other states that are eligible for their state's cooperative purchasing program (MS § 16C.03, subd. 10).

Details are online at www.mnmd.admin.state.mn.us/cpv2.html.

CPV helps members:

- Reduce or eliminate time researching product specifications
- Enhance and simplify product selection
- Attain maximum value
- Minimize time identifying new vendors
- Decrease or eliminate the time and expense required to award, process and maintain a contract

CPV membership includes:

- Immediate access to contract information via the Materials Management Division's website
- Email notifications, upon request, of important contract information
- Prompt, efficient member support, such as assistance with contract interpretation

Easy access to contracts

Your membership provides easy access to contract information through the Materials Management Division's web site at: www.mnmd.admin.state.mn.us

Save money and time

CPV offers an easy way for you to save money and time. Members save on a wide variety of products by following a simple three-step process:

- 1) Look up the item or service in the index
- 2) Retrieve a copy of the contract release
- 3) Place a direct order with the vendor

Use your membership often

Members report they've achieved significant savings through the CPV program. The state contracts prove most beneficial when purchasing standard commodities and larger, expensive items.

Apply for membership by completing the form on the other side of this brochure.

Stat. § 16C.03, subd.10, allows eligible entities to purchase goods, certain services and utilities from contracts established by the Materials Management Division (MMD) for Minnesota state agencies. MMD contracts with vendors to provide goods, services and utilities to state agencies. This program creates a legal relationship so that eligible entities can use these contracts just like state agencies. There are six categories of eligibility for participation in this program.

The annual CPV membership period runs from July 1 through June 30.

The links below provide the statutory citation, as well as information about applying for participation in the CPV.

Minnesota Statutes § 471.59, subd. 1, known as the Joint Powers Act, defines the governmental entities that may participate in the CPV. They include counties, cities, towns, townships, and school districts, as well as certain other entities.

Minnesota Statutes § 16B.2975 defines entities that are eligible to receive federal surplus property. These entities are also eligible to participate in the CPV.

Minnesota Statutes § 43A.50, defines registered combined charitable organizations that are eligible to participate in the CPV.

Minnesota Statutes § 309.50, Subd. 4 defines the charitable organizations that are eligible to participate in the CPV.

Minnesota Statutes § 145.9268, Subd. 1 defines the eligible community clinics that are eligible to participate in the CPV.

Minnesota Statutes § 16C.105, , adds that any entity recognized by another state's statutes as authorized to use that state's commodity or service contracts is eligible to participate in the CPV.

Once you've determined under which category your organization is eligible, print the CPV Membership Application Form, complete it, then send it with any other documentation required to:

Memo

May 13, 2013

TO: Charles Zelle, Commissioner
Bernard J. Arseneau, Deputy Commissioner/Chief Engineer

FROM: Daniel E. Kahnke, CGFM
Audit Director

SUBJECT: Audit of the Office of Civil Rights, DBE Program

We have conducted a performance audit of the procedures and controls used by personnel at the Office of Civil Rights. This involved developing a reasonable assurance that there was compliance with applicable laws and regulations and internal controls have been properly designed and implemented. As appropriate, detection of fraud, abuse and illegal acts were considered in this audit. This audit was requested by two members of the Legislative Transportation Committee.

Audit Scope

The audit scope was limited to the Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) Program. We conducted all field work at Central Office, and various locations in Minnesota. We interviewed "Prime" Contractors, Disadvantaged Business Enterprises (DBE's), and employees. We attended a collaborative meeting. We observed on-site certifications, project goal setting, contract clearance procedures, and reviewed records and data.

Audit Objectives

Performance audits provide objective analysis so that management and those charged with governance and oversight can use the information to improve program performance and operations, reduce costs, facilitate decision making by parties with responsibility to oversee or initiate corrective action, and contribute to public accountability.

Our audit objectives were to identify, review, test, evaluate and document policies, procedures and controls followed by MnDOT Civil Rights personnel in administration of the Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) program. This included evaluating compliance with Federal, State and department regulations, policy, and procedures.

Audit Standards

We conducted this performance audit in accordance with Generally Accepted Government Auditing Standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain sufficient, appropriate evidence that provides a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives. We believe that the evidence obtained provides a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives.

An Equal Opportunity Employer

Mn/DOT Policy 2.84-3-G-1A indicates that the scope of internal audits shall encompass the examination and evaluation of the adequacy and effectiveness on the organization's system of internal control and whether the department is managing or utilizing its resources in an economical and efficient manner, and whether the department is effective in meeting program objectives.

Internal Control

In planning and performing the audit, we studied and evaluated MnDOT's internal controls related to the Office of Civil Rights Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Program Management. Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining an effective internal control structure. In fulfilling this responsibility, compliance, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures.

A sound internal control structure should provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that 49 CFR part 26 requirements is met and MnDOT policies and procedures are followed. The internal control structure can become inadequate or ineffective because of either changes in operating conditions or deterioration of the effectiveness of the design or implementation of policies and procedures.

A sound internal control structure is important since strong internal controls and compliance with requirements helps to maintain the public trust including providing good public relations and service. Changes in operating conditions or deterioration of design or implementation of ineffective policies and procedures can render the internal control structure inadequate and ineffective.

Our audit included a review of the Office of Civil Rights internal controls, personnel, The Workforce DBE Collaborative, procedures and guidelines applicable to the Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Program. We also performed tests on various areas of the program to ensure the data within the program was valid. In an attempt to get the most relevant information, our tests were focused on CY 2010 – 2012; our samples included overall DBE goal setting methodology, project goal setting protocol, DBE contract clearance, DBE directory, DBE pool, and DBE certifications. After conducting these reviews, it was concluded that internal control issues exist and prompt action should be taken to address the deficiencies found.

Results of Audit

We have several concerns as a result of this audit. Most of these concerns have Findings associated with each concern. Each finding on these concerns will go into detail and have recommendations included.

DBE Pool and Participation

The pool of DBE's has not increased over the past several years. In addition, the participation rate of those DBE's in the pool remains low. To increase DBE participation of construction projects, we must increase the size of the DBE pool or increase the participation within the current pool. In the last five years, the DBE pool for Highway Heavy has not grown and the participation rate of those DBE's in the pool remains between 27% - 36%. Also, a majority of these companies are in the Twin Cities metro area.

The Office of Civil Rights has given presentations that indicate MnDOT has met the following goals with regard to actual construction dollars given to DBE companies:

Year	% of Dollars given to DBE's
2010	5.6%

We have concluded these participation rates are unsubstantiated. Audit asked for the documents or calculations to support the above claims and for some reason the information or calculations were not retained. An attempt to recalculate the rates proved unsuccessful. We are unable to verify these rates and draw conclusions from the information and documentation provided. We requested the numbers and percentage for 2012, no documentation was received.

Another concern with the rates above is the fact that second tier DBE subcontractors are not monitored. Audit found several examples of potential wrongdoing in this area. Out of these examples, the work to be performed by the DBE's were never completed by the DBE's, however, the contract dollars were included in the participation rate calculated by the Office of Civil Rights.

The audit determined that the DBE pool consisted of companies that do not meet the requirements of the DBE program. One of these firms that no longer qualified received significant construction dollars and those dollars were used to calculate the percentage above.

Calculation of DBE Goals

The Office of Civil Rights executed a contract with the University of Minnesota for $48,407.00 to set a goal for the following three years, (Year 2013 – 2015). The U of Mn study determined a goal of 13.8%. A memo obtained by the Office of Audit dated October 27, 2011, indicates the rate proposed by the U of Mn may not have been accepted by the Office of Civil Rights and a different method may have been used to calculate a rate of 10.3%. The rate of 10.3% was submitted to FHWA for approval. The U of Mn has concerns regarding the use of the 10.3% rate, however FHWA did approve this rate. We have documented the U of Mn Professor's concerns. The end result was our inability to follow the methodology of 13.8% to the now approved rate of 10.3% the Office of Civil Rights submitted to FHWA for approval. It is our opinion the 10.3% goal is reasonable based upon those DBE's that are Ready, Willing and Able.

Goal Setting for Individual Construction Projects

Our audit determined inconsistent methods being used to determine individual DBE goals on projects. We found different DBE specialists using varying methods to determine the goals. It is our opinion that the lack of written procedures in the Office of Civil Rights has contributed to this inconsistency. The goal recommended on any given project can vary depending on the individual setting the goals.

Poor Record Keeping & Backdating Documents

The auditors observed missing files and records, stacks of files on chairs to be scanned in the document system, confidential tax records (non-public data) unprotected. When files were obtained, we were missing documents within the files. This concern was also expressed by other MnDOT offices. One file requested for M & J Trucking LLC., contained information on two other companies.

As an example, a DBE Specialist reviewed the Good Faith Effort DBE participation rate of 12% for the Lafayette Bridge project. The DBE Specialist and his supervisor determined that Lunda Construction Company did not meet the Good Faith Efforts on December 20, 2010 and a seventeen page report was written to support his conclusion.

The DBE Specialist wrote: "DBE program staff concludes that Lunda Construction Company did not demonstrate that it made adequate Good Faith Efforts as required by the federal regulations governing Mn/DOT's DBE program." This conclusion was two pages long.

The DBE Specialist's recommendation was denied by the Director of Civil Rights and a letter of acceptance of Good Faith Efforts was sent to Lunda Construction Company.

On May 18, 2011 the Good Faith Efforts acceptance Memo for the Lafayette Bridge was requested because it was missing from the file and was to be turned over for scanning into EDMS on May 19, 2011 for the Geyer Lawsuit litigation. On May 18, 2011 at 8:43 pm the memo written by the DBE Specialist was recreated by the Office of Civil Rights Director and back dated to February 10, 2011. The conclusion of the memo was replaced with one simple paragraph that states: "OCR Director finds that the Prime Contractor has made adequate good faith efforts as required by federal regulations on this project and therefore, clears this project for award...." The recreated memo was submitted into the file.

Ultimately the Director of Civil Rights approved a DBE goal on this project at 6.3%. Our concern is this represents a major change in opinion with little or no documentation to support an opinion or conclusion.

Good Faith Efforts

Based upon a sample of contracts, we determined the contracts cleared on Good Faith Efforts are over 50%. The audit determined an over use of Good Faith Efforts in 2010 and 2011. However, in 2012 this was drastically reduced. This is a positive trend. Good Faith Efforts is an administrative procedure to be used when a contractor does not meet the DBE goal set by the Office of Civil Rights. This allows the low bidder to be awarded the contract without going to the next lowest bidder. This administrative procedure is used when a determination is made that the contractor has exhausted all efforts in obtaining DBE's to participate in the construction project. Continual use of Good Faith Efforts to clear contracts will only result in contractors being conditioned into thinking this will occur on a regular basis and MnDOT's project goals are irrelevant.

Conflict of Interest

One task of the Office of Civil Rights is to monitor the companies in the DBE pool for those firms who no longer qualify as a DBE company. The other task of this office is to grow the pool and increase participation within the pool. This clearly is a conflict of interest. Those companies that actively bid and participate in the construction bidding process, eventually earn enough money to be eliminated from the DBE pool. However, it is those companies that aid MnDOT in reaching its participation goal. Audit has found several companies that no longer meet the DBE requirements and that ineligible status had occurred over several years.

DBE Specialist

The DBE Specialist does not have the technical knowledge of construction or level of effort to create the delicate balance required to adequately set a reasonable DBE goal on individual projects. The DBE goal setting would be more effective earlier when MnDOT is packaging the project for bidding with input from the Construction Office and or District Construction Engineers. It is our opinion de-bundling the project into smaller sections is the most effective method of gaining DBE participation. This concept was very clear with MnDOT's approach to the Snelling Ave. /694 intersection. The Office of Civil Rights has held this example up as a success. This concept has to be used more.

Conclusion

Our audit finding statements relate to the General Accepted Auditing Standards (GAGAS); 49 CFR part 26 compliance; Minnesota Statutes, 16A.057 Internal Controls and Internal Auditing, and Mn/DOT policy and procedures. These findings, observations, and other audit results were discussed as applicable with Office of Civil Rights management, and the Office of Legislative Audit. We made recommendations to further strengthen the Office of Civil Rights internal controls regarding the Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Program (See Findings I through VI). The office's responses to our recommendations are included in this report, which shows the auditee's level of attention to the pertinent issues. The other issues to be considered were discussed verbally at the exit conference. These issues did not rise to the level of significance of a finding but need to be addressed to further strengthen the Office of Civil Right Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Program.

The Office of Civil Rights is a regulatory office that provides regulatory oversight for The DBE Program. It is our opinion the office has to get out of the goal setting on individual projects and turn that function over to the personnel who are closest to the construction project so proper bundling of the project is completed with DBE contractors in mind.

It is important for Mn/DOT to have an understanding of the capacity each DBE currently possess and their individual ability to complete various tasks, so matching those DBE's with de-bundled construction task can be more effectively matched. It is also important to have a true handle on the "Ready, Willing and Able" aspect of the DBE's. It is our opinion that most DBE's we currently have in the DBE pool are not "Ready, Willing and Able". Our participation rate of DBE contractors is low. The DBE program exists to correct a perceived social injustice. The focus of the Office of Civil Rights needs to be growing the DBE pool and increase the participation with the pool.

Prime contractors play an important role in teaching DBE's and nurturing DBE's on the construction side of the business. A three way partnership between the Office of Civil Rights, DBE's and the Prime contractors is important because if one fails, they all fail.

Our survey of Prime contractors and DBE's show a need for better guidance and oversight of the entire DBE program. Interviews proved confusion and frustration exists about roles of those involved in the program. We have attached the comments obtained from both parties during our visits to the companies. The comments show this frustration and confusion we observed.

We have written seven findings to this audit report with recommendations. It should be noted that this program is very complicated and the delicate balance that is necessary to run this program is extreme and was not lost upon us. We also noted that the program has improved over the last five years. This office has had its successes and made improvements to processes during that time. This office needs to be commended for those improvements.

Findings are financial and compliance in nature. Findings are intended to assess if financial operations are properly conducted; if financial data is presented fairly; and if all applicable laws, regulations and administrative requirements are followed.

FINDING I - INCONSISTENT GOAL SETTING BY DBE SPECIALIST

Description of Finding

Inconsistent methods are used to determine the individual DBE goal on projects.

We found different DBE specialists using varying methods to determine the goal on projects. One DBE Specialist may use the entire state to determine the DBE goal and others may use a mileage radius. We also found unauthorized procedures for this process written by individual DBE Specialists. Our review found a project on TH 23 in Rock County where the DBE Specialist estimated 4.5% of DBE participation. This project is located in District 7 where only 13 DBE companies are ready, willing and able. There was no documentation found to indicate the DBE Specialist contacted any DBE's to verify availability for the project. The DBE used on the project was from the Twin Cities, 231 miles away. This practice will cause the goal recommended on any given project to vary depending on the individual setting the goal.

Our review revealed the Office of Civil Rights Director lowering the goal set on a project without any documentation to justify the reason for the percentage reduction. Any changes made to percentages by management should include supporting documentation that justifies the change.

Regulation

49CFR § 26.51(e)(2) "You are not required to set a contract goal on every DOT-assisted contract. You are not required to set each contract goal at the same percentage level as the overall goal. The goal for a specific contract may be higher or lower than that percentage level of the overall goal, depending on such factors as the type of work involved, the location of the work, and the availability of DBEs for the work of the particular contract. However, over the period covered by your overall goal, you must set contract goals so that they will cumulatively result in meeting any portion of your overall goal you do not project being able to meet through the use of race-neutral means."

Recommendation 1 - If the project goal setting is to remain in the Office of Civil Rights, the Director of Civil Rights must develop written procedures that can be followed by the DBE Specialist.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with this recommendation. The OCR Director and the Supervisor of the DBE Specialists will:

- Review the established written procedures to ensure that they clearly document the steps to set a project goal.
- Review the goal setting procedures with all DBE Specialists.
- Ensure the procedures are understood and consistently followed on each goal setting by all DBE Specialists.
- Continue to use a team approach to goal setting with the Office of Civil Rights and The Office of Construction.

Recommendation 2 – Eliminate unauthorized procedures developed by the DBE Specialist.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with this recommendation. As with Recommendation 1, The OCR Director and the supervisor of the DBE Specialists will:

- Review the written procedures for goal setting to ensure that they are clearly documented.
- Review the procedures with all DBE Specialists to ensure they are understood.

In addition, the OCR Director and Supervisor will ensure that proper documentation is recorded and maintained for each project to show that the steps were followed in setting the project goal.

Recommendation 3 – If the project goal setting is to remain in the Office of Civil Rights, consider a team approach towards goal setting.

Management Response:

OCR supports with this recommendation and has been using a team approach since March 2011. The team includes engineers from the Office of Construction and District Project Engineers. Goals are now set based on team meetings that include OCR staff, Engineers from the Office of Construction, and input from the Project Engineer for the project the goal is being set on. This team approach was undertaken to add more construction knowledge for each project to the process of goal setting. As recommended, OCR will continue to use the team goal setting approach.

FINDING II – CALCULATION OF ACHIEVED DBE GOAL

Description of Finding

The office of Civil Right was unable to substantiate participation rates for 2010, 2011 and 2012.

The office of Civil Rights has given presentations that indicate MnDOT has met the following goals with regard to actual construction dollars given to DBE companies:

Year	% of Dollar given to DBE's
2010	5.6%

We have concluded these participation rates are unsubstantiated. Audit asked for the documents or calculations to support the above claims and for some reason the information or calculations were not retained. An attempt to recalculate the rates proved unsuccessful. We are unable to verify these rates and draw conclusions from the information and documentation provided. We requested the numbers or percentage for 2012, however, this documentation was not provided.

Recommendations 1 - Any reports or claims presented to the public regarding numbers or percentages need to be supported and documented. MnDOT should never dispose of supporting documentation.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with this recommendation. The following steps will be taken when calculating annual goal achievements:

- OCR will list the sources of information for the goal achievement.
- OCR will document the procedures for calculating the goal.
- OCR will continue to retain all work product that shows how the goal achievement value was calculated.
- OCR will ensure these data and work products are reflected in the data retention schedule so that it is retained for an appropriate time period.

Recommendations 2 - It is extremely important to include all of your calculations and assumptions in your submission. In other words you must "show your work." When you submit your overall percentage, it is important that we can follow your thinking process. Set out explicitly what your data sources were, what assumptions you made, how you calculated each step of the process.

Management Response: OCR concurs with this recommendation. The following steps will be taken when calculating annual goal achievements:

- OCR will document the procedures and sources of data for calculating the goal.
- OCR will retain all documents that show how the goal achievement number was calculated.
- In the calculation of the FY 13 Goal Achievement, OCR will review with the Office of Audit the process, data sources, and work product retention plan to ensure that it meets appropriate standards in FY13 and future years.

FINDING III – NO MONITORING OF THE PERFORMANCE OF OTHER PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS

Description of Finding

MnDOT's Office of Civil Rights DBE program lacks monitoring and enforcement mechanisms.

Our review found little to no monitoring or enforcement mechanisms to ensure compliance with the DBE program. The second tier DBE participation is used to calculate the goal met. We found three instances of potential wrongdoing with second tier subcontractors. In reviewing final contract totals we found that the inappropriate dollars were credited and paid for DBE participation to the prime contractor. One example found a Non-DBE subcontractor filled out a Exhibit A indicating $1.9 million for DBE participation. No subcontract was obtained between the Non-DBE subcontractor and the second tier DBE by MnDOT Office of Civil Rights or the prime contractor. We found $1.6 million dollars was funneled through the DBE for materials by a Non-DBE supplier. The prime contractor was allowed the $1.9 million of DBE participation. Monitoring of DBE's eligibility is also suspect. We found a DBE company who has been certificated for several years with the owner's personal net worth exceeding the maximum requirements.

Regulation

49 CFR § 26.37 (b) "Your DBE program must also include a monitoring and enforcement mechanism to ensure that work committed to DBEs at contract award or subsequently (e.g., as the result of modification to the contract) is actually performed by the DBEs to which the work was committed. This mechanism must include a written certification that you have reviewed contracting records and monitored work sites in your state for this purpose. The monitoring to which this paragraph refers may be conducted in conjunction with monitoring of contract performance for other purposes (e.g. close-out reviews for a contract)."

49 CFR § 26.55 (3) "When a DBE subcontracts part of the work of its contract to another firm, the value of the subcontracted work may be counted toward DBE goals only if the DBE's subcontractor is itself a DBE. Work that a DBE subcontracts to a non-DBE firm does not count toward DBE goals."

49 CFR § 26.87 (b) "Recipient-initiated proceedings – If, based on notification by the firm of a change in its circumstances or other information that comes to your attention, you determine that there is reasonable cause to believe that a currently certified firm is ineligible, you must provide written notice to the firm that you propose to find the firm ineligible, setting forth the reasons for the proposed determination. The statement of reasons for the finding of reasonable cause must specifically reference the evidence in the record on which each reason is based."

Recommendation 1 - The Office of Civil Rights needs to provide monitoring and enforcement mechanism to verify that work committed to DBE's at contract award is actually performed by the DBE's. On-site monitoring may be conducted in conjunction with existing contract performance monitoring practices already in place for other purposes, provided doing so does not negatively impact your ability to properly monitor/ensure DBEs are performing work on their contracts.

Management Response:

OCR agrees with the recommendation that monitoring and enforcement are important for the DBE program. Recognizing that more effort was needed in this area, OCR initiated (starting in 2012) the following steps to strengthen the existing monitoring and enforcement mechanisms:

- New procedures were put in place with District construction staff to help them identify which DBE firms should be performing work on the project and which work they should be performing on the project.

- Annual communication and training is provided to District construction staff to demonstrate and explain their role in monitoring, the steps they should follow to verify compliance, and information on how to work with OCR staff when they have questions or suspect issues.
- OCR has worked with District staff to withhold payments for identified violations or when contract obligations are not met.

In addition, for CY2013 Construction, OCR will be piloting the hiring of external monitoring services to supplement OCR and District staff resources for on-site monitoring of compliance with Civil Rights programs. This pilot will be evaluated at the end of the construction season to determine if it should continue or expand in future years.

FINDING IV – POOR RECORD KEEPING & BACKDATING DOCUMENTS

Description of Finding

The auditors observed missing files and records, stacks of files on chairs to be scanned in the document system, confidential tax records (non-public data) unprotected. When files were obtained, we were missing documents within the files. These concerns were expressed by other MnDOT offices. One file requested for review contained information on one DBE as well as two other non-related companies.

As an example;

- A DBE Specialist reviewed a DBE participation rate of 12% for the Lafayette Bridge project. The DBE Specialist and his supervisor determined that Lunda Construction Company did not meet Good Faith Efforts on December 20, 2010, and a seventeen page report was written to support the conclusions.
- The DBE Specialist wrote: "DBE Program Staff concludes that Lunda Construction Company did not demonstrate that it made adequate good faith efforts as required by the federal regulations governing MnDOT's DBE program." This conclusion was two pages long.
- The DBE Specialist's recommendation was denied by the Director of Civil Rights and a letter of acceptance of Good Faith Efforts was sent to Lunda Construction Company.
- On May 18, 2011 the Good Faith Efforts acceptance Memo for the Lafayette Bridge was requested because it was missing from the file and was to be turned over for scanning into EDMS on May 19, 2011 for the Geyer Lawsuit litigation.
- On May 18, 2011 at 8:43 pm the memo written by the DBE Specialist was recreated by the Office of Civil Rights Director and back dated to February 10, 2011. The conclusion of the memo was replaced with one simple paragraph that states: "OCR Director finds that the Prime Contractor has made adequate good faith efforts as required by federal regulations on this project and therefore, clears this project for award...."

The Office of Audit found no documentation that supports a change in the conclusion.

Regulation

49CFR §26.37(a) "You must implement appropriate mechanisms to ensure compliance with the part's requirements by all program participants (e.g., applying legal and contract remedies available under Federal, state and local law). You must set forth these mechanisms in your DBE program."

Recommendation 1 - The Office of Civil Rights should foster a climate that encourages good recordkeeping by employees. The office of Civil Rights should ensure that requirements for records creation and recordkeeping are included in the design and implementation of electronic systems supporting their programs.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with the recommendation. The following steps have occurred to date:

- OCR worked with the MnDOT Records Manager to develop standardized formats, procedures and process for data retention. The date retention plan was approved on March 2013.
- OCR moved its file retention process from a paper based system to MnDOT's standard electronic documents management system in 2011.
- MnDOT is implementing the AASHTO Civil Rights Labor Management System (CRL) which replaces a paper based documentation system for many of the forms submitted by Contractors and DBEs. CRL began to be used on a limited number of projects in April 2013 and is expected to be used on all new projects starting in September 2013.

- A standard format for determining and documenting the Good Faith Effort was developed by OCR and approved by MnDOT's Chief Council office. In consultation with FHWA it was determined this decision document will be used on GFE documentation.

In addition the following steps are occurring:

- OCR will work with the Office of Audit to ensure that a proper process for retention of, and secure access to, financial records is in place.

The OCR Director and OCR Supervisors will regularly review with staff the importance of good record keeping and make sure new staff are properly trained on the record keeping processes and procedures of OCR.

Recommendation 2 - Business rules need to be developed and enforced that explains how employees will use, maintain and document files with the Office of Civil Rights.

Management Response:

OCR agrees with this recommendation. OCR will further develop its business rules for using, maintaining, and documenting information. The OCR Director and Supervisors will ensure staff is properly trained in the business rules and will monitor that the rules are being followed by staff.

Recommendation 3 - All decisions will be thoroughly documented and supported. Standardized format must be used to document files. Use of an index to show documents needed.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with the recommendation that all decisions be properly document and supported. Beginning in 2012, OCR developed standard forms for documenting work but will review all business decisions to determine if all are covered by a standardized format for documenting decisions.

OCR will work the Office of Audit and/or the MnDOT Records Manager to better understand how indexing of documents can be implemented.

Recommendation 4 - Supervisor's review of these file should be completed.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with this recommendation.

Recommendation 5 - Policy, procedures and controls built into the system should ensure that only authorized users can create records and that no records are altered or deleted except as authorized.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with this recommendation. OCR will review its policy, procedures and controls to ensure that only authorized users have the ability to create, view or modify records.

FINDING V – INHERENT CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Description of Finding

One task of the Office of Civil Rights is to monitor the companies in the DBE pool for those firms who no longer qualify as a DBE Company. The other task of this office is to grow the pool and increase participation within the pool. This clearly is a conflict of interest. Those companies that actively bid and participate in the construction bidding process, eventually earn enough to be eliminated from the DBE pool. However, it is those companies that aid MnDOT in reaching its participation goal. Audit has found several companies that no longer meet the DBE requirements and that ineligible status had occurred over several years.

This conflict was observed when Donovan Trucking Inc. was audited by our office. The owner of Donovan Trucking, Inc. sent in notarized documentation that reported a personal net worth that exceeded the maximum amount allowed under 49CFR part 26. The DBE Specialist issued a memo dated September 18, 2012 stating Donovan Trucking Inc. has exceeded the personal net worth threshold of $1.34 million dollars and is no longer eligible to participate as a DBE under the MnUCP. This decision was questioned by the Director of Civil Rights and as of this report date, it is our understanding Donovan Trucking, Inc. has not been removed from the DBE pool of eligible participants.

Recommendation 1 - Eliminate the conflict of interest by assigning the monitoring duties to a non-Civil Rights Employees.

Management Response:

OCR will review this recommendation and seek guidance from the Chief Council's office on determining if monitoring responsibilities should be modified or new controls put in place.

FINDING VI – DUTIES OF THE DBE SPECIALIST

Description of Finding

The DBE Specialist does not have the technical knowledge of construction or level of effort to create the delicate balance required to adequately set a reasonable DBE goal on individual projects. The DBE goal setting would be more effective earlier when MnDOT is packaging the project for bidding with input from the Construction Office and or District Construction Engineers. It is our opinion de-bundling the project into smaller sections is the most effective method of gaining DBE participation. This concept was very clear with MnDOT's approach to the Snelling Ave. 1694 intersection. The Office of Civil Rights has held this example up as a success. To properly set a goal, one must have an understanding of the DBE contractor's ability with the construction work to be accomplished. We found no evidence of this occurring. Inconsistent practices were found when determining if the DBE Company was contacted to see if they were ready, willing and able. Goal setting of individual projects needs to involve more than one employee to ensure documents are properly processed, data correctly reported, and goals are accurately set. Segregation of duties provides for an independent check on work performed and reduces the risk of error or inappropriate employee actions. This separation prevents one person from having responsibility over all aspects of a process or transaction cycle.

Regulation

49CFR § 26.51(e)(2) "You are not required to set a contract goal on every DOT-assisted contract. You are not required to set each contract goal at the same percentage level as the overall goal. The goal for a specific contract may be higher or lower than that percentage level of the overall goal, depending on such factors as the type of work involved, the location of the work, and the availability of DBEs for the work of the particular contract. However, over the period covered by your overall goal, you must set contract goals so that they will cumulatively result in meeting any portion of your overall goal you do not project being able to meet through the use of race-neutral means."

Recommendation 1 - Many factors should be taken into consideration when setting a goal on individual projects. The scope of the project; the type of contractor who would most likely bid as a prime on the project; location of the project; available DBEs for the type and area of work; and other factors that may vary from project to project.

Management Response:

OCR concurs with this recommendation and it is reflected in the written procedures DBE specialists follow and in the information the project goal setting team considers in setting the goal.

Recommendation 2 - Project goal setting should be completed months before the project is let and incorporated into construction plans.

Management Response:

OCR will consider this recommendation. Currently a DBE goal is set with information from the Engineer's estimate. For Design Build projects the estimate is available three months in advance of project letting which supports this recommendation. However, for Design Bid Build projects, which are the primary procurement method for MnDOT projects, the Engineer's estimate is typically not available until one month before project letting. Therefore, in order to set the goal several months before letting a new method would need to be developed: OCR will discuss options with FHWA and with the Office of Construction to determine if this is feasible.

Recommendation 3 - Strong consideration must be given to having the goal setting by the Office of Construction and Innovative Contracting personnel. This goal needs to be considered when packaging the proposal for bidding.

Management Response:

OCR agrees that Office of Construction staff and the Project Engineer should be involved in project goal setting and implemented this with the team goal setting process in 2011.

Several methods for increasing DBE participation by changing project packaging were piloted in 2012 and again in 2013. These methods included mandatory subcontracting, project debundling, and advance support for DBEs to form a DBE teams to bid as prime contractors on projects. On the Snelling Avenue/Interstate 694 project only the mandatory subcontracting resulted in increasing DBE participation. As a result of the success of mandatory subcontracting, OCR and the Office of Construction are working with Districts on several projects to establish this in the project packaging. OCR also continues to provide support to DBEs in their effort to become prime contractors bidding on projects.

Comments and concerns from Primes and DBE's

Primes –

- How can a prime build a strong business partnership with DBEs and utilize their service if we are supposed to police and ensure they are in compliance with their certification requirements.
- The state should validate a DBE can perform work in specific areas before a NAICS code is issued.
- Why is the prime responsible to question the ownership, the makeup of their workforce and other DBE's company structure? Shouldn't this be validated by the State at the time they go through the Certification process?
- There is a very limited number of DBE's that will quote on work in rural Minnesota. To show good faith efforts we solicit all of the DBE's. The labor pool for Out-State contractors is very different from Metro contractors. OCR needs to recognize and understand this.
- Why is the Prime required to monitor and enforce employment goals for subcontractors? Shouldn't this be the responsibility of OCR?
- It should not be the prime's responsibility to teach, train and ensure that the DBEs are in compliance with the EEO and Affirmative Action requirements. In order to be certificated the DBE should have to demonstrate to the state that they know and understand the compliance requirements. This should not be considered a part of the GFE of the Prime, but rather a DBE compliance requirement to get DBE Certification.
- There is no deadline for business to submit the bids to primes. Since there is no deadline, quotes are received up until the time of letting and gathering GFE documentation would be impossible. Therefore in the JUDGEMENT of the OCR you will not be compliant with GFE and lose the job.
- These types of regulations and program requirements make it almost impossible to comply with the compliance requirements. It appears that this program was not well thought out and shows that whoever developed these requirements does not understand how the bidding process works between the Prime, DBE, Veterans, and TGB businesses.
- In a neighboring state online bidding systems dictates the deadline is the day before at 5:00 or 6:00 depending on the dollar amount of quote. They also have an online drop down listing all of the Certified DBEs.
- Currently the Mn Online bidding system does not have the capability to submit any GFE information or documentation.
- No current list of the Veterans and/or TGB businesses anywhere online.
- What is the purpose to require this tremendous burden of paperwork on bids, when the Prime is not awarded the job?
- We understand the importance of submitting GFE information but not the short period of time. It will only add increased cost to all of the Primes to be able to meet these unreasonable compliance timeframes. These costs will ultimately be added to the bids on the job and thus increasing the overall cost to the taxpayers.
- The deadlines will not bring any real value to the construction jobs.
- The GFE Consolidated form is required by some of OCR staff even if the goal is met.
- We believe the state should validate that the DBE is a valid business and that they have the capability to perform a Commercially Useful Function (CUF)

- Establish a guideline that clearly defines a certain percentage, that if a DBE's bid is higher than the other Sub Contractors bids, the Prime can consider their bid unreasonable.
- How can a Prime ensure they are compliant if it is based on someone's judgment? In order to have a fair unbiased decision you need to have defined criteria.
- The directors written determination of whether the ALB has met the DBE goal or made adequate GFE will be mailed to the ALB informing of the decisions "approximately 10 – 12 business days after the Submission due date. Why shouldn't this be a requirement?
- Primes have filing deadlines and requirements why shouldn't OCR have similar requirements.
- Workforce issues – OCR should be following up with the jobs to ensure that the jobs are set up in WITI before the scheduled start dates. Numerous times this is not set up and we have to send several emails and make phone calls to OCR.
- Several Sub contractors have tried to contact the OCR to get set up with a user name and password. They cannot get OCR to respond.
- The prime needs to make extra copies of EEOs for all of the Sub-Contractors on the jobs that have federal wages because the contracting engineer and OCR do not share these documents.
- DBE Directory needs to be updated once a month, with a separate listing of just the new DBE's, removed and changed addresses.
- Add the section in the DBE register that would include the geographic area of the state where the DBE is willing to perform work.
- They should also provide the areas of work that they are able to perform and that they are certified to perform.
- OJT trainees should be able to be assigned to any state or federally funded projects of the Prime. The goal is to give these employees the opportunity to learn a new trade.
- Hour requirements – The number of hours required by project is difficult to comply with and is usually unrealistic and unattainable. An example a job required 1700 hours of training. The Primes portion of the project was scheduled to take four weeks. The total project, start to finish was estimated about 6 weeks. We were supposed to use at least two trainees. These two trainees would have to work 141 hours a week for 6 weeks. You can only have so many trainees on a job site and still maintain the quality of work.
- Having enough DBEs to support the program is a concern. Losing DBEs to ND and there are no replacements. Limited list of DBEs in their area.
- The collaborative feels like union versus independent training establishment.
- OCR does not provide their process to the primes. They have asked and OCR comes back very vague on their processes.
- OCR needs to be more proactive. They used to be, and then these special interest groups come in and say they aren't doing their jobs. That is where the Collaborative comes in.

Comments from DBE –

- Feel the DBE Program is a waste of taxpayer money.
- Feels the primes run OCR
- When OCR allows extra time for the ALB the DBE feels this is the time the prime is allowed to squeeze the DBE and de-bundle their proposed quote to the prime.
- OCR should be verifying DBE bids to primes
- If the program operated the way it was supposed to operate then the small businesses would get projects, hire workers and help build the economy.
- The missing link is a contract with the primes that actually says the amount the DBE will really get paid.
- The DBE often hire from the same pool as the Primes do so it is difficult with a small budget to compete with the Prime and meet the 32% workforce regulation.
- OCR met with the Prime and Sub about the possible fraud claim but not with the DBE.
- Why is the money filtered through the primes? The state should have to pay the DBEs directly to know what participation is achieved.
- Prime use the same DBEs
- Primes wait until the last minute to contract the DBEs so the DBEs don't have the time to get a quote together and then they can just turn in GFE instead of using DBEs and meeting goals.
- The DBEs can't get the experience because they don't have the opportunity to show what they are capable of doing.
- DBE is the wrong terminology to use. The word "disadvantaged" speaks for itself.
- Would like to have someone oversee the project and look what the actual dollar amount was given to DBEs. They should be looking at the contract that has been signed when it's a done deal because that has different amounts then the initial contract that OCR has seen.
- DBEs should have required training in DBE Fraud
- Primes should be held accountable for the fraud.
- OCR should model after the Wisconsin DBE program
- Change the DBE acronym. Disadvantaged is the wrong word.
- Time of letting shouldn't be a problem for the primes. The primes play games with DBEs before bidding. The Primes will tell DBEs what the low bid is so they can try and get below that. Minnesota is a low bid state, if the prime can't meet the DBE goal, move onto the next lowest bidder.
- Is not sent timely No Change Affidavits, in fact, they haven't seen one in a while. Sometimes wonders if they are still certified.
- Going to meetings and finding out that primes and certain DBEs are already talking and getting information when others aren't.
- Why can't MnDOT say to DBEs what would you like the opportunity to do? Let primes know what DBEs are interested in and what type of work they are interested in.

- Why can't primes get in touch with DBEs right away when they know there is a goal on a project?
- Primes need to contact DBEs with enough time for the DBEs to get in a good accurate quote. DBEs feel it's a waste of time to call primes back because they aren't even serious about using them. ``
- MnDOT educates the DBE on how the program actually operates and they should also be held accountable just like the primes if they knowingly do something wrong.
- Projects need to be debundled so they can have a little piece.
- DBE see themselves has having their hands tied and if they don't keep quiet then they won't get the work.
- Primes should CC OCR when they send the DBE a contract so OCR can see what the prime really gives the DBEs.
