

A Life Changing Experience

Few born with a disability have an opportunity to experience woods or water adventures. The same is true for those living with disabilities caused by an accident or illness. We are here to change that. Whether it's fishing, recreational shooting, hiking, or hunting, we make outdoor adventure open and available to everyone.

Don't dwell on things you can't do, work on the things you can do!

Enabling the disabled for outdoor activities!

Change Lives

People who live with disabilities are often reminded of their limitations. What if we could help turn that around, and remind them of what they are truly capable of? Midwest Outdoors Unlimited is about overcoming the barriers that prevent people from enjoying the great outdoors.

By providing guided, safe, hands-on recreational experiences, our local chapters give friends, family, and entire communities a way to participate with those who have disabilities and, together, do what was never thought possible.

Enabling people to reach their full potential is heart-changing and life-changing. All we require of disabled and nondisabled participants is a willingness to learn, to teach, and to do. It's a chance to go for it.

Participants

Our events are open to all ages. There are no participation fees for those who are disabled. The only limitation is not signing up.

Become Involved

Volunteers

Are you dedicated to making outdoor pursuits possible? Then you'd make a great volunteer—someone who can lend experience, motivation, or physical support.

Mentors

Skilled technicians are very important. We call them mentors. These sportsmen offer hands-on assistance to all of our participants. Whether baiting a line, steadying a gun, or providing an extra measure of safety, mentors bring a high level of knowledge and expertise to our outdoor events.

Members

Midwest Outdoors Unlimited membership allows you to keep up with events and activities in your area and throughout the country. Find out how you can join at www.midwestoutdoorsunlimited.org.

Partners

Event partners are crucial to our mission. Their generous contributions make it possible for disabled participants to take part in outdoor events free of charge. Partnership is also a great way to promote a business while raising awareness of needs in the disabled community.

National partners provide funding and resources, which allow our programs to reach more people across the country.

To find out more about partnership opportunities, email: midwestoutdoorsunlimited@yahoo.com.

Build Community

It is the local community that fortifies every chapter of Midwest Outdoors Unlimited. Each chapter is made up of members, along with a community of participants, mentors, and partners. Anyone is welcome to get involved. Ideally chapters commit to organizing at least two outdoor events and one fundraising event each year. Of course, there are always opportunities to do more.
