

1.1 ..... moves to amend H.F. No. 1520, the first division engrossment
1.2 (DIVH1520-1), as follows:

1.3 Page 2, line 30, delete everything after "(a)"

1.4 Page 2, delete lines 31 and 32

1.5 Page 3, delete lines 1 to 9

1.6 Page 3, line 10, delete "(c)"

1.7 Page 3, after line 14, insert:

1.8 "(b) Telephone cardiopulmonary resuscitation instruction is a general duty to the public
1.9 rather than a special duty owed to individuals and a 911 telecommunicator must exercise
1.10 judgment and discretion in performing actions including, but not limited to:

1.11 (1) determining whether a particular situation requires instituting the cardiopulmonary
1.12 resuscitation program;

1.13 (2) determining whether a caller refuses or is otherwise unable or unwilling to provide
1.14 cardiopulmonary resuscitation or receive telephone cardiopulmonary resuscitation instruction;

1.15 (3) using and appropriately adapting an evidence-based protocol or script for providing
1.16 cardiopulmonary resuscitation instruction based on individual callers and emergency
1.17 situations presented by callers; and

1.18 (4) determining when to transfer a caller to another public safety answering point with
1.19 911 telecommunicators that have received training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation."
