9.23 department and the center add to the list of curricula, professional development programs, 9.24 and screeners a specific curriculum, professional development program, or curriculum. The 9.25 department must publish the request for reconsideration procedure on the department website.
9.26 A request for reconsideration must demonstrate that the curriculum or professional 9.27 development program meets the requirements of the Read Act, is based on the science of 9.28 reading, is evidence-based, and has structured literacy components; or that the screener
9.29 accurately measures literacy growth, monitors progress, and accurately assesses effective 9.30 reading, including phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension.
9.31 The department and CAREI must review the request for reconsideration, consult with the 9.32 Read Act Implementation Advisory Council regarding the request, and approve or deny the 10.13 ~~replicable evidence showing that when these programs or practices are used, students can~~ 10.14 ~~be expected to achieve, at a minimum, satisfactory reading progress~~ research that applies 10.15 rigorous, systematic, and objective procedures to obtain valid knowledge that is relevant to 10.16 reading development, reading instruction, and reading difficulties. The program or collection 10.17 of practices must include, at a minimum, ~~effective, balanced~~ evidence-based instruction in 10.18 all five areas of reading: phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary development, 10.19 and reading comprehension.

10.20 ~~Comprehensive, scientifically based reading~~ Evidence-based literacy instruction also 10.21 includes and integrates instructional strategies for continuously assessing, evaluating, and 10.22 communicating the student's reading progress and needs in order to design and implement 10.23 ongoing interventions so that students of all ages and proficiency levels can read and 10.24 comprehend text, write, and apply higher level thinking skills. For English learners

11.1 ~~that stresses learning how letters correspond to sounds and how to apply this knowledge in~~ 11.2 ~~reading and spelling~~ the understanding that there are systematic and predictable relationships 11.3 between written letters or graphemes, and spoken sounds or phonemes.

11.4 (e) ~~"Reading comprehension" is an active process that requires intentional thinking~~
 11.5 ~~during which meaning is constructed through interactions between text and reader.~~

 11.7 ~~implementing specific cognitive strategies to help beginning readers derive meaning through~~ 11.8 ~~intentional, problem-solving thinking processes~~ the ability to read the words on the page 11.9 and to understand and comprehend the words that have been read.

11.10 (f) "Vocabulary development" is the process of teaching vocabulary both directly and 11.11 indirectly, with repetition and multiple exposures to vocabulary items. Learning in rich 11.12 contexts, incidental learning, and use of computer technology enhance the acquiring of
