Bill Description

Relating to public safety; enabling law enforcement and family members to petition a court to prohibit people from possessing firearms if they pose a significant danger to themselves or others by possessing a firearm.

Assumptions

No fiscal impact to the Department of Public Safety, as there are no specific directives or tasks for the agency within the bill language. This bill language references "local law enforcement agencies" as the parties responsible for accepting temporary transfers of firearms, rather than state agencies.

Bill Description

Section 10 of the bill requires that, by December 1, 2023, the Peace Officer Standards and Training Board, after consulting with the Minnesota County Attorneys Association, the Minnesota Sheriffs' Association, the Minnesota Chiefs of Police Association, and the Minnesota Police and Peace Officers Association, shall develop model procedures and standards for the storage of firearms transferred to law enforcement under section 624.7175.

Assumptions

Assumes that POST Board staff (primarily the Standard's Coordinator) require approximately 16 hours of staff time to review best practices and recommendations and make them available on the POST website. It is assumed that this is not a new mandated policy but a resource for agencies complying with this bill.

Expenditure and/or Revenue Formula

16 hours of professional staff member time at $59.00 per hour (includes fringe), 16 x $59.00 = $944.00

Long-Term Fiscal Considerations

Once the model policy is completed, long term costs for POST should be minimal.

Local Fiscal Impact

Local agencies will potentially need to allocate capital resources (if not already in place) to store and account for seized firearms.

Bill Description

HF15 at section 1 amends Minn. Stat. § 624.713, subd. 1, to add a person subject to an extreme risk protection order to the list of persons not entitled to possess ammunition or a pistol or semiautomatic military-style assault weapon, or any other firearm.

The bill at sections 2-7 adds new Minn. Stat. §§ 624.7171-7176 authorizing the chief law enforcement officer or a designee, or a city or county attorney, a family or household member, or a guardian to file a petition in district court in the county of respondent’s residence for an extreme risk protection order, which shall prohibit the respondent from possessing firearms for the duration of the order. All filing fees are waived for the petitioner and respondent. Section 624.7175 provides for transfer of firearms upon issuance of an extreme risk protection order, consistent with the existing firearms transfer provisions in section 518B.01 (Domestic Abuse Orders for Protection). Section 624.7176 requires the return of transferred firearms after expiration of the order provided the respondent is not otherwise prohibited from possession.

The bill at section 8 adds a new section 624.7177 making it a misdemeanor to petition for an order knowing any information in the petition is materially false or with intent to harass, abuse, or threaten; or to possess a firearm when prohibited from doing so by an extreme risk protection order. The bill at section 9 adds a new 624.7178, which provides liability protection for law enforcement. Section 10 of the bill adds a new section 626.8481, which requires the Peace Officer Standards and Training Board to develop model procedures for firearms storage.

All provisions take effect January 1, 2024.

Assumptions

It is assumed that the provisions requiring the state court administrator to create forms will require work by state court administration and that the work will be absorbed. It is also assumed that all of the required notices will be included on the court forms.

It is assumed that the requirement to provide a copy of any order issued under these provisions to the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the residence of the respondent will be satisfied by providing a copy to the sheriff in the county of venue and by making the orders accessible to law enforcement in the judicial branch’s Minnesota Government Access (MGA) portal, which is currently available to any law enforcement agency in the state that requests such access and signs the required agreement. The county attorney will also be notified.

It is assumed that a new case type will likely need to be created in the judicial branch’s case management system, MNCIS, in order to ensure the case type and any orders issued are available to law enforcement statewide. Configuration work will be required to make the case type available to law enforcement in MGA and to trigger electronic data notifications via integrations. Creation of the case type and the work related to MGA and integrations will be absorbed by State Court Administration.

It is assumed the court will seal any affidavits or proofs of transfer as required by section 624.7175(c)(2) that may be filed with the court, but that the court may not receive any proofs of transfer as referenced in section 624.7175(c)(1) as none of the provisions in that paragraph require any of the affidavits or proofs of transfer to be filed with the court.

It is assumed that the provisions of this bill will result in new case filings as the bill creates a new civil cause of action and new criminal offenses. It is also assumed that the judicial resources required to process the civil cases filed under the provisions of this bill would be comparable to the judicial resources required to process domestic abuse cases under section 518B.01, although the case filing rate is assumed to be no more than 10% the annual case filing rate for domestic abuse cases.

It is unclear whether the criminal cases for unlawful possession filed under the provisions of this bill would be charged as gross misdemeanor offenses under section 624.713, subd. 2, or misdemeanor offenses under section 624.7177, subd. 2. The provisions of this bill are not anticipated to result in a significant increase in criminal case filings.

Expenditure and/or Revenue Formula

Based on 6 years of judicial branch case filing data, an average of 10,315 domestic abuse cases are filed annually statewide. Assuming a case filing rate of 10% of the domestic abuse case filing rate, it is anticipated that approximately 1,032 cases will be filed annually statewide under the provisions of the bill. According to judicial branch weighted caseload data, the average domestic abuse petition requires 53 minutes of judge time. Based on the average judge year in minutes, which is 78,000, 1,472 cases would need to be filed annually statewide for the bill to require one judge FTE, so the provisions of the bill are not anticipated to require an additional judge FTE statewide.

According to judicial branch weighted caseload data, the average domestic abuse petition requires 163 minutes of court staff time. Based on the average court staff year in minutes, which is 74,830, 459 cases would need to be filed annually statewide for the bill to require one court staff FTE so the provisions of the bill are anticipated to require 2 additional court staff FTE per year statewide. The cost of an FTE court operations associate is anticipated to be $45,500 for FY24 (half the FTE cost due to the January 1 effective date), and $91,000 for FY25, and FY26.
