1.4 Page 2, after line 11, insert:

1.5 "(3) "mercury vapor lamp" means a high-intensity discharge lamp, including clear,
1.6 phosphor-coated, and self-ballasted screw base lamps, in which the major portion of the 1.7 light is produced by radiation from mercury typically operating at a partial vapor pressure
1.8 in excess of 100,000 pascals;

1.9 (4) "mercury vapor lamp ballast" means a device that is designed and marketed to start
1.10 and operate mercury vapor lamps intended for general illumination by providing the necessary
1.11 voltage and current; and

1.12 (5) "specialty application mercury vapor lamp ballast" means a mercury vapor lamp
1.13 ballast:

1.14 (i) that is designed and marketed for operating mercury vapor lamps used in quality
1.15 inspection, industrial processing, or scientific applications, including fluorescent microscopy
1.16 and ultraviolet curing; and

1.17 (ii) the label of which states "For specialty applications only, not for general illumination"
1.18 and indicates the specific applications for which the ballast is designed."

1.19 Page 2, line 14, after "lamp" insert ", a mercury vapor lamp, or a mercury vapor lamp
1.20 ballast, whether sold separately, in a retrofit kit, or in a luminaire"
