MDA would administer the new edible cannabis endorsement program in a similar manner, with several differences specified in this section (e.g., the endorsement would only be available to those who are already licensed by the new Cannabis Management Board). Except for limited purposes (e.g., product development), this section prohibits the production of edible cannabis products at the same facility where noncannabis foods or beverages are produced. The grants to individuals are designed to be made by lottery after a very simple application, with DEED publishing all the information necessary to find an appropriate training program, and funds can be used for external barriers to training like child care and transportation as well as formal tuition and materials. The amount for individual grants is currently blank.
