Overview

This bill repeals the special legislation enacted in 1993 and 1994 that authorizes Minneapolis, the Minneapolis school district, the Minneapolis library board, the Minneapolis park and recreation board, and St. Paul to impose residency requirements as a condition of employment with the city, or other named public entity.

- 1 Repeal of local residency authority in Minneapolis and St. Paul. Repeals the special authority for the city of Minneapolis, Special School District No. 1 (Minneapolis), the Minneapolis library board, the Minneapolis park and recreation board, and the city of St. Paul to establish residency requirements as a condition of employment for jobs with these entities. The general law, Minnesota Statutes, section 415.16 prohibits a city or county from imposing residency requirements, except in areas outside the metropolitan area if the job requires a certain response time.
- 2 Effective date. Immediately after final enactment.
