Overview

Creates a new pension plan for employees of local government correctional facilities. Pension coverage for these employees would be shifted from the current PERA general plan (Under current law, correctional employees already have a special disability benefit). The new plan would provide a higher benefit and disability benefit than the PERA general plan, and a lower normal retirement age. Members of the new plan would be employees who spend at least 95 percent of their job in direct contact with persons confined in jails or correctional facilities.

Both employee and employer contributions would be increased from rates currently paid for local government correctional employees in PERA. The employee contribution rate would be 5.83% of salary (instead of 4.96% currently paid by local government correctional employees). The employer contribution would be 8.75% (instead of 5.49% currently paid on behalf of local government correctional employees).

The bill provides that the increases in counties' PERA contributions for local government corrections employees as a result of this bill are not subject to levy limits.
