Overview

H.F. 2768 requires each special taxing district's levy to be shown separately on the tax statement.

Section

Contents of tax statements. Provides that the tax attributable to each individual special taxing district is to be stated separately on the property tax statement. Under current law, the regional rail authority levies are shown separately, and levies for the metro area-wide special taxing districts are combined, but the levies for all other special taxing districts are combined into a single line on the tax statement.

Effective for taxes payable in 2011 and thereafter.
