Overview

The general education revenue program contains a component called operating capital revenue, which provides additional revenue for school districts for some equipment and facility needs. Operating capital revenue averages about $250 per pupil and is provided through an equalized aid and levy. The equalizing factor for the operating capital levy is often adjusted by the legislature to ensure that other school funding changes have no net statewide levy effect.

This bill removes obsolete language relating to the operating capital levy equalizing factor.
