Summary

Requires that the biannual uniform outcome report cards on workforce development programs include two additional pieces of information for each program: 1) a list of the program's goals as defined in the grant agreement between DEED and the program; and 2) an analysis of the program's progress towards meeting those goals.

Uniform outcome report cards are issued every even-numbered year on each workforce development program. These report cards include extensive information on who enrolls in and completes training with each provider and employment rates and earnings post-training, as well as program costs.
