

Subject OHE regulation of religious postsecondary schools

Authors Nornes

Analyst Sean Williams

Date March 2, 2020

Overview

Current law provides a religious exemption from Office of Higher Education (OHE) registration and licensing for degree-granting and private career schools.

However, if a school offers a particular degree program that is nonreligious, the school is subject to OHE regulation, and must be licensed or registered by OHE.

The bill allows a school that offers both religious and nonreligious programs to receive a religious exemption for its religious programs, but requires nonreligious programs to register with OHE or be licensed by OHE.

Summary

Section	Description
---------	-------------

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 | Religious exemption; degree-granting schools.Exempts degree-granting programs from OHE regulation if they are offered by a religious organization or church, primarily designed for persons who seek to learn the faith and beliefs of the organization, and intended to prepare the students to enter a vocation closely related to the faith. |
| 2 | Exemption limitation; degree-granting schools.Clarifies that the religious exemption for degree-granting schools does not extend to programs that are marketed or represented to students as nonreligious or to prepare students for a vocation not related to the faith.   |
| 3 | Application for religious exemptions; private career schools.Allows a private career school to apply for a religious exemption for its religious programs, even if it offers other nonreligious programs.   |
| 4 | Religious exemption; private career schools.Exempts private career school programs from OHE regulation if they are offered by a religious organization or church, primarily designed for persons who seek to learn the  |

Section	Description
	faith and beliefs of the organization, and intended to prepare the students to enter a vocation closely related to the faith.
5	Exemption limitation; private career schools. Clarifies that the religious exemption for degree-granting schools does not extend to programs that are marketed or represented to students as nonreligious or to prepare students for a vocation not related to the faith.

MN HOUSE RESEARCH

Minnesota House Research Department provides nonpartisan legislative, legal, and information services to the Minnesota House of Representatives. This document can be made available in alternative formats.

www.house.mn/hrd | 651-296-6753 | 600 State Office Building | St. Paul, MN 55155