Overview

Minnesota has a number of children's museums. The base budget for K12 education includes $460,000 per year in funding for some of these museums, including $269,000 for the Minnesota Children's Museum in St. Paul, $50,000 for the Minnesota Children's Museum in Rochester, $50,000 for the Duluth Children's Museum, $41,000 for the Minnesota Academy of Science, and $50,000 for the Headwaters Science Center in Grand Rapids.

Some children's museums also receive funding from the state's legacy fund.

H.F. 891 appropriates $50,000 a year for a grant to the Children's Museum of Southern Minnesota, located in Mankato.
