

Subject Essential employees

Authors Lucero and Dettmer

Analyst Marta James

Date February 15, 2022

Summary

This bill adds medical examiners, coroners, medical death technicians, and medical death investigators to the definition of “essential employees” under the Public Employment Labor Relations Act (PELRA). Under PELRA, essential employees cannot legally strike. Bargaining impasses for essential employees are resolved through binding arbitration.