11	Definitions; individual alternative minimum tax. Applies the business meal expense addition and delayed business interest subtraction to the calculation of a taxpayer’s alternative minimum taxable income. Additionally applies the new NOL rules in section 12. Effective for tax year 2022 and later.	Section 18. Similar. Differences in cross-references. Senate reference includes the addition and subtraction for the special limited adjustment in section 20.
12	Carryback or carryover adjustments. Defines the amount of the net operating loss deduction allowed as an individual subtraction under section 6. The amount is based on the carryforward amount an individual is allowed under the net operating loss rules established in 2017 in the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA). Under the individual net operating loss provisions of this article, the federal net operating loss deduction claimed federally would flow through to the state beginning in 2022, while an additional subtraction is provided for any remaining net operating loss deductions allowed under the TCJA rules (except the indefinite carryforward rule), as of the same date. Effective retroactively for tax years in 2018 and 2019.	Section 19. Similar. Technical differences in effective date. Senate provides that the effective date is effective for losses arising in 2018 and 2019.
13	Special limited adjustment. Establishes a “special limited adjustment to tax” for all tax filers for tax years prior to 2022. While the bill generally conforms retroactively, the special limited adjustment would adjust a taxpayer’s tax liability by the difference in tax between the preconformity and post-conformity tax calculations. Although the bill generally conforms to most federal provisions retroactively, the adjustment means that conformity will not affect the tax paid in tax years prior to 2022. The adjustment does not apply to:	Section 20. Similar. Similar language to sections 13 and 16 of House bill. Differences in which provisions are allowed fully retroactively. A QCDE may apply for both a greater Minnesota and metropolitan allocation. Subd. 4. Certification of qualified equity investments. Requires the commissioner of DEED to grant or deny an application in full or in part within 30 days of receipt. If the application is denied in part, the Commissioner must provide the grounds for denial and allow 15 days to correct the application. If the application is complete, the commissioner of DEED must certify in writing the proposed equity investment as a qualified equity investment eligible for the credit. The QCDE must notify the commissioner of DEED of the taxpayers allocated credits and the credit amounts and utilization schedule. For allocations received on the same day, the commissioner of DEED must certify applications for the greater Minnesota and metropolitan allocations in proportion to the amount of qualified equity investments requested for each allocation and the total amount of qualified equity investments in all applications. Allows the transfer of certified quality equity investment authority to a controlling entity under specified circumstances. Requires the QCDE to provide evidence of receipt of the cash investment and the designation of 50 percent of the qualified equity investment under the requirements of the federal new markets tax credit, if the QCDE is not a Minnesota QCDE. The 20 percent credit rate would apply until a taxpayer’s income exceeded $400,000. The rate would be further reduced by one percentage point for each $2,000 of income in excess of $400,000 of AGI, until the credit percentage reached zero percent. For married taxpayers filing separate returns, the $125,000 and $400,000 thresholds would be half the thresholds for other filers. Subd. 2b. Inflation adjustments. Sets the base year for the inflation adjustment at tax year 2022. Subd. 2c. Deemed expenses. Under current Minnesota law, certain taxpayers are deemed to have employment-related expenses eligible for the dependent care credit. For operators of a family day care, the bill sets the deemed amount for a child attending the day care at the amount the facility would normally charge for a child of a given age. For a child younger than 1, the bill sets the deemed amount to equal the maximum amount allowed for a child ages 0-4 ($6,000 for one child). Subd. 2d. Taxpayers not filing a federal return. Moves language governing taxpayers who do not file a federal return from subdivision 1 to a new subdivision. The bill does not make a substantive change to this provision.	Increases the income level at which the dependent care credit begins to phase out from $52,230 to $70,000. Effective beginning in tax year 2022.

1 - 22	Renter’s credit converted to income tax credit. Article 8 of the House bill converts the renter’s credit into a refundable income tax credit, effective for 2022 refunds (based on 2022 incomes, 2022 rents, and payable in 2023). The amount of the credit would be calculated in the same manner as under current law, except the bill would simplify the measure of income used to calculate the credit. Under current law, “household income,” the income measure used to calculate the credit, includes many categories of nontaxable income. Under the bill, household income equals adjusted gross income, minus exemptions allowed for taxpayers with dependents, taxpayers who are 65 or older, and taxpayers who have a disability. The article largely retains the administrative provisions for the renter’s credit that are codified in current law under chapter 290A, the chapter of statutes for property tax refunds. Many of these administrative provisions are duplicated in the new language for the credit, or are moved out of chapter 290A and into section 290.0693, a new section of law establishing the income tax credit.	No comparable provision.
