Overview

This bill broadens the scope of data on a military service member that may be made available to the Minnesota National Guard upon request of the Office of the State Judge Advocate.

Summary

Section Description

- Veterans of military affairs data coded elsewhere.

Amends this section in chapter 13 to create a cross-reference to the section of law amended in section 3 of the bill.
- Exemption from process; transfer to civil authorities.

Moves to a different section of statute an existing provision regarding criminal offenses committed by a service member, and updates and clarifies the language of this provision.
- Service member data.

Broadens the scope of data on a service member that may be made available to the Minnesota National Guard upon request of the state judge advocate. Data available to the Guard under the bill would include any data classified as either confidential data on individuals or private data on individuals maintained by any government entity. This section also removes an existing limitation that the data must relate to matters of military justice and discipline.
